

25- day personality and professional development training camp begins

■ Staff Reporter

A 25- day training camp on the topic of 'Personality and Professional Development' was inaugurated in a grand manner at Conference hall of University Institute of Management and Commerce, Rani Durgavati University (RDU), on Saturday.

The training camps organised under the banner of Skill Development Centre.

Chief guest on the occasion was Dr Rajesh Dhirwani, G D

Dr Dhirwani addressing the training camp.

Sharma, Chief Commercial Officer, West Central Railway, Registrar, Dr Magan Singh, Nodal Officer, DSW Professor Surendra Singh, Chief Trainer, Sanjay Choubey, and Dr Ashish Sharma graced the programme as special guests, while officiating Vice-Principal, Professor Jagmohan Kellar presided over the function.

Chief Guest, Dr Dhirwani said that the personality of skill person is already made. He said that person should know about the work and then one must have experience of the work and third one must be professional. Everyone should know about their responsibility and efficiency and should keep distance from anger, laziness, and stress.

Nodal Officer, Skill Development Cell, Professor Surendra Singh discussed on the topic of opportunity through skill development in Higher education. He said that Central and state government both are working towards this work.

Officiating Vice-Chancellor, Dr Kellar emphasised on the Personality development. He said that every person has different skills and it is only need that they should understand their skills for achieving success.

The other guests also addressed the programme and informed about importance of skills.

Lastly, vote of thanks proposed by Sujata Moolchandani and Dr Ashish Sharma.

Professor RC Morya, Professor Uma Tripathi, Dr Garg, Dr Sharma, Dr Uppadhya, Pramod Vadhava and students were present.

Dignitaries present during the camp.